

Laurel Solorzano

Author

---

---

laurelsolorzano@gmail.com

www.laurelsolorzano.com

www.facebook.com/laurelsbooks

Author Bio

---

Laurel Solorzano has enjoyed writing since she was in middle school, exchanging manuscripts for years with her best friend. After traveling the globe for a time, Laurel set her goal to become a published author. She currently works teaching English and Spanish, writing stories in her free time. Laurel lives in Raleigh, North Carolina with her husband, Yader, and their two dogs.

About the Book

---

In the Shadow of the Cities is a book for dystopian fiction fans. Imagine the Hunger Games, but instead of experiencing the oppression from the typical Citizen's point of view, this book tells the story from the guard's, or soldier's, perspective.

What makes them do as they are told? Why do they tirelessly obey the Government (yes, big G) and its endless rules?

Scarlett grew up in a training center and never expected to question all of the rules as much as she does when she is placed in City 6. Should she obey or does she dare try to uncover the secrets?

Author- Laurel Solorzano
Publish Date- July 2021
Genre- YA, Dystopian Fiction
Page Count- 266
ISBN-1631953273
Paperback- $15.95

---

Sample Q&A

1. When did you start writing?
2. Where have you traveled?
3. What inspired your first book?
4. What is your favorite book?
5. What makes you a unique author?
6. What are your future writing plans?
7. How many books have you written?
8. What is your writing routine?
9. What is your favorite genre to read/write?
10. How many more books do you want to publish?

Fun Facts-

- I am fully bilingual and lived in Costa Rica, Panama, Peru, Nicaragua, and Australia for a combined 3.5 years.
- I have written manuscripts in at least four different genres.
- My first story was written at the age of seven and starred characters from the PBS show Arthur.